But Still Lower Than Last Year-Mayor Says Part of Increase Is Due to Changes in Financiering by Comptroller Grout -Grout Explains Why He Changed.

The budget for 1904 was finally made up yesterday by the Board of Estimate. The of the party can be induced to say, but it new budget calls for an expenditure of is understood that it is something very $108,874,855, an increase of $9,804,978 over nice. It is said further that the women the appropriations for this year. Nearly | will not be allowed to welch. $6,000,000 of this increase will go for the redemption of city bonds. The board has decided to wipe out about $3,700,000 of outstanding revenue bonds, while the amount set aside for the redemption of corporate stock is nearly $2,000,000 greater than last

Mayor Low pointed out yesterday that part of the increase was due to "a change of the methods of financiering adopted by the Comptroller." Mr. Grout promptly issued a statement in reply, in which he said that the change referred to was simply that he had refused to continue the practice of selling corporate stock in advance of requirements. Mr. Grout also explained verbally to a SUN reporter that it has hitherto been the custom of Comptrollers to use the proceeds of corporate stock sales to re-proceeds of corporate stock sales to replenish the treasury.

"Corporate stock should be sold only for specific purposes," he said. "If the city is in need of money for current expenses, this want should be met, according to the law, by revenue bond sales. The interest on these bonds, however, is greater than that of corporate stock, and consequently the system has grown up of using the money derived from corporate stock sales for other. derived from corporate stock sales for other than specific purposes. That system I have stopped, because it is unlawful." These are the budget figures the column showing increases or decreases:

For the county of New York $2,365,115 was appropriated, an increase of $37,334,115 was appropriated, an increase of $37,334; in the county budget for Kings the appropriation was $1,125,423, a decrease of $48,882; Queens got $157,194, an increase of $172, while Richmond, with $63,960, had an increase of $350.

After the meeting had adjourned Mayor Low made this statement:

The amount to be collected by faxation next year will be approximately $1,000,000 less than was collected under the budget made in 1901. It will be about $9,500,000 in excess of the amount collected this year, of which approximately $3,500,000 will be offset by the increase of taxable property and by the gain in the city's revenues. The rest of the increase, amounting it $4,000 collected the second by the gain in the city's revenues. and by the gain in the city's revenues. The rest of the increase, amounting to $6,000,000, comes from the demands for redemption of city debt, for interest and for installments on account of new debt. The last item is not unduly large, less than $400,000. The amount included for redemption of city debt includes $3,700,000 of special revenue bonds in excess of last year, most of which have amount included for redemption of city debt includes $3,700,000 of special revenue bonds in excess of last year, most of which have been issued on account of the street and park opening fund. In this sum is an item of more than $1,000,000 necessitated by the payment of the awards for the Riversile Drive extension, an improvement begun in Mayor Strong's time. There is a large increase in the amount of interest due on account of revenue bonds issued in anticination. crease in the amount of interest the on ac-count of revenue bonds issued in anticipation of taxes; also on account of the high rates of interest now ruling, and because of a change in the method of financiering adopted by the

in the method of financiering adopted by the Comptroller.

The tax rate next year is likely to be 1.50, as against 1.41 this year; but even that is a lower rate than lust year, apart from any change in assessed valuations, notwithstanding the great growth of the city and the many improvements that have been made. To put it another way: on taxable resources next year (at least $450,000,000 in excess of last year, the amount of money to be raised by taxation will be $1,000,000 less. For several years the tax budget has approximately been almost stationary. It has really increased every year; but the increase has been offset, until now, by a constant diminution in the State tax. The State tax, both this year and next, is as low as it can be, under the state Constitution, which calls for the collection of 15 mills each year on account of the canal debt. Every increase in city expenses, therefore, from now on will show without any offset, except as items like the issue of special revenue bonds for street and park openings, and the interest account may vary from year to year.

The increases allowed this year for the departments, including the Borough Presidents, have been kept within $3,500,000—the estimated increase in the revenues of the city.

nated increase in the revenues of the city This was what Mr. Grout issued after he had read the Mayor's statement:

he had read the Mayor's statement:

The change in the financiering which the Mayor refers to is simply that the Comptroller has refused to continue the practice of selling corporate stock in advance of requirements, in order to make use, for the time being, of the proceeds for current expenses of the city, a practice which has slways prevalled heretofore and which is not clearly authorized by law. It makes comparatively a slight difference in the cost of interest, but it is the only policy which can be lawfully adopted. That makes a small difference. I cannot vote for that statement, but I have no objection to it going on the record. I cannot say what the tax rate is going to be.

In voting for the budget Mr. Grout said:

In voting for the budget Mr. Grout said:

The largest item of increase is the sum necessary to replenish the fund for street and park openings. The sum necessary is imposed by taxation according to the terms of the Charter, but is intended for present use and to be collected hereafter by assessment. I regard the law as very defective in this respect, and I believe the city ought to at once propose an amendment to allow the issue of assessment bonds instead of shecial revenue bonds and so prevent such an increase in taxation. Such assessment bonds could be redeemed out of the assessment bonds in the matter was with the Corporation Counsell, who has proceeded. It hink, faster than his chient could afford. If, instead of closing to many of these proceedings this year, he had closed a few more last year, a few less this year, and reserved some for next year, there would have been no such increase in taxation. BUFFALO, Oct. 31 .- At noon to-day the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce held its demonstration in favor of the barge canal. ALBANY, Oct. 31 .- Preference for the installation of an electrical traction system for the propulsion of canalboats as against the 1,000 ton barge canal proposition was expressed to-day by State Engineer Bond.

At this time I have no official record of the different speed trials made at Schenectady, the depth to which boats are loaded, and the wave produced by a single boat or by several boats towed together at various speeds; but it is perfectly practicable at such points as may be found necessary to raise the banks of the canal and protect them from any wave that may be caused by the increased speed of boats. That is a matter which can be regumay be caused by the increased speed of boats. Mr. Bond was asked whether this system would be practicable for use on the proposed barge canal. In reply he said:

ALBANY, Oct. 31 .- The payment of $41,000 n counsel fees to the attorneys for the receivers of the Anglo-American Savings and Loan Association of New York city during 1901 and 1902 was the astonishing statement made before Supreme Court Justice D. Cady Herrick to-day. The occasion was an application made before him to prevent the Attorney-General from regulating the compensation of the receivers' attorneys.

Myer Nussbaum is the main counsel for the receivers and he received as counse! fees in 1901 and 102, $28,000, and in 1801 Edward H. Coyne also received $10,000 in fees as counsel. Since February last At-torney-General Cunneen has refused to assent to the payment of $10,000 to Myer Nussbaum for his services for the present

William E. Kisselburgh appeared before Justice Herrick this afternoon on behalf of Mr. Nussbaum and contended that under the law the Attorney-General could not limit the compensation of a receiver's attorney. Deputy Attorney-General Wood said that ointed neither the creditors nor the stock pointed neither the reduces her the stock-helders of the company had received a cent. He pointed out that the heldings of the association were mostly in real coate and that the receivers had disposed of them to the old officers of the association, taking a million dollar mortgage in return therefor Mr. Wood said that Mr. Nussbaum could no show any services rendered which entitled him to such exertitant compensation. Justice Herrick reserved decision. Morer Nussbaum is a former State Senator from Albany, now practising in New York city, and Mr. Come is a former Deputy Attorney-General.

the telegraph lines began to have trouble. So did the cable and the long distance telephone, and for a while the experts couldn't figure out what was the matter. The disturbance did not tie up the telegraph lines entirely, but it made a lot of trouble. Sometimes the instruments began to click of their own accord, then messages came through all right for a time, only to be interrupted by a sticking and sputtering, as though the receivers and relays were not properly adjusted. It was said by elec-trical experts that yesterday's was the worst disturbance since 1888. noon before the telegraph instruments were ticking uninterruptedly again. J. C. Barkiey, the Western Union's chief electrician, said that in 1888 the aurora played the same tricks. "It is nothing at all serious," he said. "We are always somewhat affected by an aurora. are always somewhat anected by the arteria. I should judge that the disturbance extended from London to New York as well as further to the west. The cables were in trouble from 2 o'clock until 6. The disturbance was continued intermittently and various lines were tedup, but only for a few moments at a time. Communication are the disturbance was result by broken for a are warms at a time. "I don't think any one can account for the disturbance," he said. "The trouble is laid to an excess of enertricity, both in the earth and the atmosphere. Where it is laid to an excess of electricity, both in the earth and the atmosphere. Where it comes from and where it goes I don't know. The gist of the matter is that we set our batteries and machines with reference to a certain current. When this state of affairs occurs we get a surplus current with more or less unhappy results."

The financial district felt the trouble soon after the wire houses started communication with Chicago and the West. One brokerage house which has three direct wires to Chicago, reported that between 9 30 and 16 o'clock they could operate their instruments only about one minute in five. instruments only about one minute in five. The heads of the wire houses communicated with the wire chiefs of the telegraph companies and were teld that at a score of points ground currents were making the trouble.

BATTLE IN SANTO DOMINGO.

Government Forces Said to Have Won a

Fight Near Puerto Plata. Señor Manuel Galvan, Consul-General of Santo Domingo in this city, received a cipher despatch from Puerto Plata yesterday telling of the first actual battle which has been fought between the Government troops and the rebels since the uprising started a week ago.

This engagement took place on Friday morning at Sosua, about fifteen miles from Puerto Plata, and resulted in a victory for the Government. Gen. L. Espaillat, Dominican Secretary of War, commanded the army which routed the rebels. He had under him 900 men, who are now on their way to Puerto Plata, where Vice-President Deschamps is held a prisoner.

Consul-General Galvan cabled yesterday to Consul Vidal, at Santiago de Cuba, to ship immediately to Santo Domingo City 500,000 cartridges which are there at the order of the Government. They will be shipped by special steamer, and ought to reach the Dominican capital to-morrow. Gen. Carlos Morales, who heads the in-surrootion, has been Governor of Puerto Plata under the present Government, having fought against President Vasquez to place Gen. Wos v Gil in power.
